

Faith in the Workplace: Tapping into the Power of Inspiration to Be and Do Your Best

FOR MANAGERS, TEAM LEADERS, TEAM MEMBERS

Training Formats: Half-day – two days
(offered on-site, company specific, webinar, online)

There are invisible human factors that deeply impact our capacity to perform, persist, and produce—faith factors.

These faith factors hold the power to transform the workplace by transforming the mindset, emotions, behaviors, and performance to sustain positive energy. Faith is believing in something beyond oneself, and it sets a standard of excellence and sustains positive energy throughout the organization.

When team members are able to be their best and bring their whole selves to work, they are inspired to perform, stay longer, and build stronger teams. When the deeper parts of team members are supported, their internal capacity expands, and they develop strength, perseverance, and tenacity, which helps them foster innovation, connections and solutions.

KEY RESULTS:

Guide team members in specific techniques they can implement to avoid overwhelm, exhaustion and burnout.

Understand how to tap into the wellspring of physical, emotional, mental, and spiritual energy that is always available.

Create deeper connections and stronger teams by promoting authentic relationships. These connections lead to increased enjoyment, innovation, commitment, and positive energy.

Learn how to avoid conflict and become unoffendable as you work with different team members and levels of management.

Easily recover from frustrating and negative situations and occurrences in the workplace.
